President's Message

The February meeting provided the momentum to keep us on track for a good start this year. For the first time since February 2020 our attendance was more than 30 members and guests. Hopefully, we can continue re-building our attendance.

With the improved attendance, the meeting was highly active as members got together to carve and tell bad stories during our "All Carving" day. There wasn't an official class, but there were a number of mini-classes where members learned from each other.

In March, we return to a structured class with Mike Crosson teaching a "cross" project. Then in April, Ronnie Boston will fill the instructor's chair. He hasn't made a decision on the project, but he says bring a knife, pencil, ruler and a glove.

Beyond April, Dallas Deege will teach in May. His project is a "hand." Carolyn Smith has signed up to teach wood burning in June and Lance Rath is the instructor in August. Lance's project will be announced later.

With March, April, May, June and August instructors scheduled that leaves July, September, November and December. The HAWC Show is schedule for the third Saturday in October. A sign-up sheet will be at the meeting for potential instructors to mark month, name and carving project for the remaining months.

For our treasury, March is still considered the start of the new year. That means it's time to collect 2022 HAWC dues. Our treasurer will be on hand to collect dues.

While we had a good membership attendance at the February meeting, we are still behind our pre-covid numbers. Let's close the gap some more at the March meeting.

Unless Pete is on hand in March, we will need a volunteer to teach at the beginners table.

See you March 19,

Buddy
